

papers are solicited to the following streams (work-in-progress papers are also welcome):

Art & Cyberspace, chair: Jana Horáková, indicative topics: (new) media works of art as subjects of historiography; (new) media works of art and issues concerning their archiving; strategies of documentation, preservation, and mediation of (new) media works of art; The Art of COVID-19: migration of art into the cyberspace in the age of the coronavirus pandemics; representations of (corona)virus and/or the pandemics by means of art, new media art and sci-art.

Law: Cybersecurity, Cyber-Warfare, chair: Václav Stupka, indicative topics: cyber terrorism; cyber warfare; use of force on-line; active countermeasures; response teams; ius ad bellum/ius in bello; the NIS Directive; Cybersecurity Package.

Law: Cybercrime, Digital Evidence, chair: Aleš Završnik, indicative topics: criminal procedure issues, e.g. data retention and data preservation, real-time collection, interception, European Investigation Order, European Production and Preservation Orders, digital forensics; cyber crimes, e.g. phishing, ransomware; cybercrime agencies, responding to and preventing cybercrime, jurisdictional issues in cybercrime, impacts of COVID-19 on cybercrime e.g. new trends, zoombombing.

Law: eCommerce, Digital Single Market, chair: Zsolt Balogh, indicative topics: information society services; sharing economy; search engines; platforms; electronic and virtual currencies; payment and micropayment systems; eCommerce taxation; AML and CTF measures.

Law: Government 2.0, chairs: Ludwig Gramlich, Pavel Loutocký, indicative topics: open government; on-line public procurement; on-line legal counselling; e-identity and eIDAS; mobile government; e-participation v e-democracy; social media in public sector; internet governance; participatory governance

Legal Informatics, chairs: Erich Schweighofer, Jakub Harašta, indicative topics: AI in law, human-computer interfaces, on-line promulgation of law, automated processing of case-law, new search techniques, legal data analysis, AI for justice, smart contracts, automation of law.

Law: Intellectual Property On-Line, chairs: Andreas Wiebe, Matěj Myška, indicative topics: copyright; common copyright title; digital rights management; open source; open access; exceptions and limitations to IP; fair use; fair dealing; protection of software; licensing; P2P networks; trademarks on-line; collective management of copyright; trademarks in auction and search servers; TDM and limitations; protection of raw data; protection of databases; upload filters.

International Internet Law, chair: Dan Svantesson, indicative topics: public international law and the Internet; private international law and the Internet, extraterritoriality online; Brussels I, Rome I, Rome II and the internet; cross-border on-line defamation; place of damage; electronic choice of law and choice of forum; international on-line arbitration; cross-border consumer protection; GDPR Art. 3, law enforcement cross-border access to data.

Law: Privacy and Personal Data, chairs: Christof Tschohl, Jakub Mišek, indicative topics: GDPR (incl. national implementations), e-regulation, anonymizers, intelligence snooping, privacy-by-design, right to be forgotten, counter-surveillance, DPIA, international data transfers; contact tracing, privacy and ethics

New Media and Politics, chairs: Monika Metyková, Alena Macková, indicative topics: online political communication; new media in elections and campaigns; new media, democracy and civic participation; hacktivism; new media and political polarization; online public spheres; new media and political mobilization.

Internet and Society, chairs: Kristian Daneback, Jakub Macek, indicative topics: new media in everyday lives; digital divide; communities in cyberspace; anthropology of cyberspace; gender and internet; new media and social services; online media and transformation of journalism; new media and media audiences; virtual worlds.

Psychology of Cyberspace, chairs: David Šmahel, Hana Macháčková, indicative topics: impact of the Internet use on individuals and family; Internet addiction; online identities; counseling and therapy online; Internet, sexuality and intimacy; human personality online; e-learning; online gaming; cyberbullying; online victimization; technology and health; online risks and opportunities; security from user perspectives.

Faith, Law and Technology, chairs: Herbert Hrachovec, Andreas Kirchner, indicative topics: Precondition of trust in Cyberspace, Knowledge and faith in disruptive technologies; Cyberpolicies of faith; Church versus State in social media discourse; Faith-based immigration policies; Legality of banning church services; Christian values under siege?, Internet-induced conspiracy theories and criteria of credibility.

Online Dispute Resolution, chairs: Zbyněk Loebel, Ethan Katsh, Leah Wing, Pavel Loutocký

Medical Data (special track), chair: Walter Hötendorfer

Manipulative Techniques On-Line (special track), chair: Miroslav Mareš

AI & Fair Trial (special track), chairs: Hubert Smekal, Monika Hanych

This year only: the conference will be all online. Participants submit a short abstract for initial review and, if accepted, they submit an extended abstract or a video (10-20 min.) before the conference. Extended abstracts and video papers will be available at the conference website. The streams and special tracks will be organised between 26 and 30 November as videoconferences and will be used for real-time discussions of the extended abstracts or video-papers.

full written papers are not mandatory, but are welcome by the following associated peer-reviewed journals:

Masaryk University Journal of Law and Technology (mujlt.law.muni.cz), print and on-line, listed in SCOPUS, EBSCO, Hein Online, ERIH

Cyberpsychology (cyberpsychology.eu), on-line, listed in WoS, SCOPUS, EBSCO, ERIH PLUS, Directory of OA Journals

Important dates

Abstract submission deadline:	31 July 2020
Notice on abstract acceptance deadline:	31 August 2020
Extended abstract/video deadline:	15 November 2020
Conference registration:	1 July – 20 November 2020
Conference dates:	26 - 30 November 2020
Papers for journal publication deadline:	15 February 2021

Abstract formal requirements

Range:	max. 1.500 characters incl. spaces
Submission:	on-line at www.cyberspace.muni.cz

Paper formal requirements and submission

Papers published in MUJLT: <https://journals.muni.cz/mujlt/about/submissions>

Papers published in Cyberpsychology: <http://www.cyberpsychology.eu/submission.php>

Conference fees

full pass – speakers, delegates: 250 CZK (approx. 10 EUR)

student pass: free

Contacts

Conference website: <http://cyberspace.muni.cz>

Central conference e-mail address: cyberspace@law.muni.cz

Mailing address: Masaryk University, Faculty of Law
Institute of Law and Technology
Veveří 70
611 80 Brno
Czech Republic

Officials

General Chair	Radim Polčák
Deputy Chairs	Jakub Míšek, David Šmahel
Hospitality Chair	Matěj Myška
Financial Chair	Jakub Harašta
Programme Chair	Pavel Loutocký
Head of Staff	Jan Zibner
Publicity Officer	Monika Hanych
Technology Officer	Václav Stupka